Help shape the future restructuring landscape of Europe

On 22 November 2016, the European Commission published its proposal for preventive restructuring frameworks (COM(2016) 723 final). Upon adoption, the directive will require Member States to introduce preventive restructuring proceedings into their national systems. This will drastically change the insolvency and restructuring environment in Europe.

While numerous legislative initiatives for the introduction of modern "light touch" restructuring proceedings are already underway, a broad consensus on just what these proceedings should look like, and what their objective should be, has yet to form. As the thinking matures, there is likely to be an impact both on the final wording of the directive now under consideration, and on the ways in which EU Member States will use the discretion afforded to them in implementing it.

The purpose of this conference is to bring together top experts in the field and all those interested in the subject within and outside Europe to exchange ideas and contribute to the collective thinking on the restructuring proceedings of the future.

We look forward to welcoming you in Amsterdam on 27 January 2017.
